Polymer Capital Hiring Team
Hong Kong SAR

Re: Analyst, Quant Trading Support_Hong Kong

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to apply for the Analyst, Quant Trading Support role in Hong Kong at Polymer Capital (LinkedIn posting 4414470066). The emphasis on production quant systems, careful order and settlement checks, fast incident response, and practical tooling to cut operational risk matches how I have been working on liquidity and trade support desks.

At OSL in Trading & Liquidity, I operate settlement-heavy workflows across several jurisdictions, keep failure rates very low through disciplined checks and routing choices, and monitor treasury and custodian positions in real time so the desk can trade through volatility with clear escalations. Earlier at Amber Group on market-making operations, I tightened daily BAU with reporting that tied incentives and throughput to outcomes and surfaced exception themes with owners, which mirrors the monitoring and continuous improvement culture your posting describes.

My FICC internship at Huatai Financial Holding included Liquidity Management and cash bond flow desks with Excel-VBA automation and close coordination with Risk and Settlement. I hold an M.Sc. Finance (Honours) from HKUST and a B.B.A. Professional Accountancy (Honours) from CUHK, with Bloomberg, Wind, Tableau, R, and VBA experience from coursework and the roles above.

Thank you for considering my application. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how I can support production quant trading operations at Polymer Capital.

Sincerely,

Zhao Yanbo
