Hiring Team
Quantum Life
Hong Kong SAR

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for Operations Analyst with Quantum Life in Hong Kong SAR at entry to mid level. I've worked in HKMA delivery where stakeholders expect clean numbers, tight process, and no drama when a deadline lands. I want to bring that same rigor to your operations and analytics stack.

You need someone who turns messy inputs into metrics people trust and workflows that don't depend on heroics. I like that work. I stay direct in cross functional rooms and I don't vanish when the model or the dashboard needs a rewrite.

- HKMA reporting and monitoring: I translate product owner priorities into Tableau and Power BI dashboards with training and documentation, and I pair that with Grafana monitoring on large document retrieval workloads so teams see drift before customers do.
- HKMA automation savings: I automated a recurring firewall review workflow with Next.js, JIRA, and OPA so the team gets about thirty staff hours back each month through repeatable steps instead of ad hoc effort.
- Jay Cee Ess and Universal Innotech KPIs: At Jay Cee Ess Global I improved funnel and checkout performance with user intake about 200% in context, cart abandonment down about 70%, and price lookup latency down about 99%, and at Universal Innotech I cut recurring reporting turnaround from about two days to about two hours on fifty thousand plus record cycles with validation on each batch.

I'm fluent in English and I'm motivated by continuous improvement across operations, analytics, and delivery. Happy to talk if you want specifics on any line above.

Warm Regards,

Syed Ayan Ali
